GREAT CORONATION SCENES ARE MARKED BY SPLENDOR

Crowning George V. at Westminister Abbey Attended by Notables From all Parts of World—Stirring Events During the Day—Thousands Show Loyalty.

London, June 22.—On this day of the crowning of George V., King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the British Dominions beyond the seas, nothing has been wanting to make the solemn and impressive ceremony one long to be remembered not only throughout the country but in every corner of the great empire.

Never before in history has the Imperial note been struck in such a magnificent manner. Its imperial aspect undoubtedly has the most remarkable feature of the coronation.

George V., more than any sovereign of the past represents the embodiment of the Imperial idea. He only of all his predecessors on the throne traveled through his vast dominions and thus acquainted himself at first hand with the needs and aspirations of all the various peoples of his empire.

Then the happy coincidence the Imperial Conference sitting at the time of the coronation enabled all the representatives of the kings over-seas dominions to participate in the significant ceremony at the opening of the new reign, which, if the hopes of these attending the conference bear fruit will bring all parts of the empire into closer and more intimate relations.

The great State pageant was carried through with dignity and impressiveness and made a deep impression upon all those privileged to witness it and it was accompanied by an outburst of loyalty throughout the kingdom that might appear surprising at a period in the world's history when thrones no longer appear to be established on the surest foundations.

The remotest suburbs of the great city and every village in the land tonight gave evidence of devotion and loyalty to the throne. Not the humblest home, but displayed a flag or illuminated device, portraits of the King and Quen and a loyal motto.

The stirring events of the day were carried through without hitch or serious accident of any kind. The wather was less favorable than had been hoped for, but the rain was not sufficient to detract seriously from the splendor of the pagentry.

The attendance of the general public in the streets did not approach that at King Edward's coronation. This probably was due to fears endangered by the unusually severe police regulations and the barricades erected to protect the line of the procession route, which under the circumstances therefore proved needless. Gloomy prognostications or trouble arising throuh public resentment of these precautions as an infringement of British liberty proved quite groundless. Everything was carried out with smoothness and in perfect order, which excited universal admiration.

Chief Coronation Scene.

Perhaps never in history, certainly never in the experience of any person who witnessed it, has there been an historic scene so magnificent as the ancient Abbey of Westminster presented, when George V. and Queen Mary were seated in state upon their thrones.

All who attended the crowning of Edward VIII, agreed that today's ceremony surpassed that spectacle in every circumstance of stately stage setting, of solemn ritual, inspiring music, the host of royal and eminent personages, the wonderful display of rich uniforms, bright gowns, marvelous jewels, which combined to create an impression of awe and admiration.

Their majesties with gleaming crowns on their heads and gorgeous great Cullinan diamond flashing from the Imperial crown, all the nobles of the throne in quaint costumes of ancient offices, with a few modern uniforms, the four peeresses attending the Queen in shimmering gowns, pages in light blue and white grouped behind them, an array of church dignitaries robed in scarlet and gold, formed the center of the picture. Below the King and Queen were the young Prince of Wales, almost smothered in the dark blue robes of the Order of the Garter, with the peers' crimson mantle around his shoulders, and the Duke of Connaught in the uniform of a field marshal.

Just above the altar to the right of the King, loaded with massive gold plate, was the girlish Princess Mary, wearing the coronet of a peeress, with hair hanging down her shoulders, and the three younger princes in Scotch kilts. Near them were the other members of the royal family.

Yeoman of the guard with halberds lined the aisles through the space of the abbey and in the great boxes rising high against the walls and filling the transapts and galleries were 7,000 spectators, forming blocks of quivering, variegated color. In one group were the future rulers of most of the kingdoms of Europe with their aides. In another were the diplomatic crops, competing with the royalties in the splendor of their uniforms and decorations. Two blocks facing across the nave were composed of peers and peeresses wearing red robes and ermine capes, holding in their laps their coronets until the King was crowned.

Another large section was occupied by members of the House of Commons with their ladies. Some of them wore uniforms, but the majority were in black court dress. Indian potentates with gaudy turbans and marvelous jewels formed a striking group in still another section. A scarlet block represented the army; a blue one the navy, a third, a scarlet and white, indicated where the judges in robes and wigs sat, while the boys of Westminster school, who boast themselves of ancient privilege to acclaim the King were high up in the tri-forum, and the barons of the cinque ports in a box close to the throne.

How Ladies Were Dressed.

All the ladies, apart from the peeresses were arrayed in court costumes, with white feathers in their hair. Many wore tiaras. There was a treasure of precious stones never before collected in one place and costly enough to buy the ships of the British navy. The ladies in waiting to the Queen in the Abbey were found duchesses, each attired to carry into effect a color scheme of shot gold. Princess Mary wore a short white frock and a long royal violet train suspended from the shoulders with gold cord tassels bordered with ermine and gold braid.

The ceremony in the Abbey consumed more than three hours. The stately ritual of the established church combined with the coronation rites, surcharged with the traditions of faded centuries, and Sir Walter Parrati's impessive music, which continued thoughout—now a soft accompaniment, then the choir intoning the service, then the majestic hymn, and, at the culminating points, the roll of drums and the blast of trumpets, all united to make every moment one of intensest interest.

Sermon of Archbishop.

The Archbishop of York's sermon had as its text: "I am among you as He that serveth."

He said: "Pray we for our King, that his strong trust in God may keep him faithful to God's great trust in him; to be among the people in his home land, among the multitudes of India, among the strong young nations over the seas, the one man raised above private and local interests, to think of all, to care for all, to unite all in one fellowship of common memories, common ideals, common sacrifices. This is indeed a kingly life. Pray we that God may give the King His grace to live it."

Apart from the processions, the solemnity and the paraphernalia of state, there was an undercurrent of human interest most appealing. Queen Mary, although she bore herself with regal statelines during her crowning, was at first noticeably nervous. While the King was being anointed and crowned she had her handkerchief at her eyes frequently. The King when he received the homage of the heir displayed a father's affection.

From the earliest hours of the morning the streets were lined deep with people. Both routes of the procession were filled long before the troops reached their places. The early arrival of cavalry accompanied by bands afforded almost as interesting a show as the procession itself and then came royal carriages and coaches taking robed and uniformed men and daintily dressed women to the Abbey for the ceremony.

Unfortunately threatening weather compelled most of them to make the trip in closed carriages, detracting from the spectacle which nevertheless was picturesque. The vicinity of the Abbey itself was a brilliant scene. From time to time until the King and Queen had passed through the entrance the church bells rang the hours. Here troops had taken up their positions even before the earliest arrivals and formed a guard about the square. On one side the horse guards stood beside their black chargers, flanked by blue coated marines and blue jackets, with hussars near to take charge of the officers' horses as they arrived with the processions.

Soon after 7 o'clock carriages and motor cars began to crowd the entrance. Admiral Count Togo and Gen. Count Nogi, the Japanese veterans, came in the first open carriage, a royal one with scarlet liveried coachmen and footman. They were accompanied by British attaches and were given a hearty welcome. Then came a stream of royal carriages, bringing the King's guests. Mrs. John Hays Hammond, wife of the special American ambassador, Brigadier Gen. Greeley, representing the United States Army, Rear Admiral Vreeland, representing the United States navy, and Earl Dodge, secretary to the special embassy, were in this procession which included representatives of every State.

The ambassadors, among whom was Whitelaw Reid, and the ministers

RECIPROCITY FIGHT IS WAXING WARM

Adverse Reports on Free List and Wool Revision Bills Prevents Vote.

PLAN IS TO AMEND MEASURE

Senator Penrose Fulfills His Promise —Small Conferences Held in the Democratic Ranks—No Adjournment Soon.

Washinton, June 22.—Treading gingerly over ground rendered dangerous by adverse reports made today by the Senate Committee on Finance on teh Democratic farmers' free list and the wool revision bills, and startled by the threat that these measures together with bills to revise the cotton, sugar, lead, and steel schedules would be offered as amendments to the reciprocity bill, the Senate concluded the day without reaching the expected vote on the Canadian measure.

Chairman Penrose, of the Finance Committee, fulfilled his promise, made in anger on the floor yesterday when it became apparent that the Republican majority had been hobbled by the coalition of insurgents and Democrats and called a meeting of the Finance Committee for today. It resulted in the adverse reporting of the wool bill by a vote of 9 to 4 and the farmers' free list bill by a vote of 8 to 5.

When these reports were presented to Senate every chance of an agreement for a vote on the reciprocity bill to be followed by early adjournment of the extra session was removed. The Senate realized that it was confronted with general tariff revision to which the regular Republicans were opposed and for which both Democrats and insurgent Republicans sought credit.

That the Senate had entered upon the most difficult stage of its progress toward action on the reciprocity measure was conceded on every hand. It was admitted that the measure was threatened with death or amendment that might make it inacceptible to President Taft or obnoxious to Canada.

When the Finance Committee met today the regular Republican members, who had a bare majority of that one time invulnerable body, expressed relief that it had been demonstrated that their organization was no longer in command; that they could shift the burden to the Senate itself, and that it was no longer necessary to dissemble.

At the same time the views of the Republican regulars that the effect would be to accomplish practically nothing in the present session was voiced by such men as Senators Penrose and Lodge.

The remarks of the Republican leaders were expressive of contempt for the Democratic bills, Mr. Penrose saying that the wool bill was made overnight by mechanics, and that no sensible body of men would think of devoting less than ten months to a revision of Schedule K.

The question now uppermost is whether the President would accept any amendments to the reciprocity bill. The Democrats who hesitate to defeat reciprocity by amending it are many; but if there is a prospect of forcing the President to accept any amendments in the way of further tariff revision, the amendments will have a majority of the Senate behind them.

Small conferences were held in the Democratic ranks all day. The suggestion already has been made in some quarters that the wool bill and the free list bill be passed ahead of the reciprocity bill, so that the latter can be used to induce the President to sign the others. Democratic leaders and insurgents confess, however, that they have determined upon no line of future action, and do not know what turn the complicated situation will take within the next few days.

The debate over the Finance Committee's action was short, however. From that the Senate ran into a discussion of the reciprocity bill, Senator Cummins attacking the Root amendment on the ground that it would indefinitely delay the relief which American paper consumers seek from the grip of the so-called paper trust. Late in the afternoon there was an apparent effort to bring about a vote on this amendment, but Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, and Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, renewed the debate as to Canada's powers of controlling the woodpulp export. Finally at Senator Nelson's suggestion, the vote on the amendment was again held over.

Senator Cummins, in his attack upon the Root amendment, declared that he believed the manufacturers of print paper in the United States effectually control prices and dictate the mills from which purchasers may buy. He expressed the belief that the prices at which paper is sold in the United States are not determined by the ordinary rules and forces of trade and commerce.

"The manufacturers have so manipulated the business in which they are engaged," he said, "that they fix for the publishers of the United States just such price as they desire to demand for what they produce."

BANKING SYSTEM MOST IMPORTANT

President Taft Speaks Out in New York for Aldrich Plan.

HIS ADDRESS LAST NIGHT

Nothing So Important to All Classes of Citizenship—Movement of Crops in the South—The Farmers Interested.

New York, June 22.—"I sincerely hope that those excellent associations that have been organized for the promotion of the adoption of this plan will press home upon the farmers of the South and the West and the Northwest the fact that there is no legislation—I care not what it is—tariff, railroad, corporation or of a general political character—that at all equals in importance the putting of our banking and currency system on the sound basis proposed in the National monetary commission plan."

So declared President Taft tonight to a big gathering of bankers and men of prominence in the financial and business world at the banquet of the New York State Bankers Association which is in session at Manhattan Beach. His address was mainly devoted to a careful and coherent elucidation of the Aldrich National Reserve Association plan, which he warmly commended as providing for "the establishment of the 7,000 National banks of this country on a representative republican basis. He declared it a "careful and well drawn plan devised by a non-partisan commission" to avoid the "concentration of controlling influence, either in Wall Street or in Washington," and expressed his belief that the plan in its general features ought to commend itself to "the whole business community of the country," the farmers and wage earners as well as to the banking, railroad and manufacturing interests.

The farmers have a most intimate interest in the plan which shall secure for the middleman, at a reasonable rate of interest, funds with which to move the crops and with which to pay adequate prices for that which the farmer has to sell, said President Taft. The demand for money which arises every season for crop moving causes frequent embarrassment and a raising of the rates of interest which such a plan as this would avoid. In no other way can the expense of the disposition of the farmers' crops, which in times past has been so heavy, be so materially reduced. This is as true of the cotton crop in the South as it is of the wheat crop in the Northwest and the corn crop in the Middle West."

MR. DOCKERY'S CONDITION.

Rockingham Attorney is Still Very Ill With Fever.

Rockingham, N. C., June 22.—There has been very little change during the past twenty-four hours in the condition of Mr. A. S. Dockery, who lies dangerously ill with typhoid fever. His physicians report that the fact that he is holding his own may be called an encouraging sign. His temperature seems to be under control now, but for several days he had distressing hiccoughs with practically no interruption, and his heart has shown some indications of weakness. He is a dangerously ill man, but still has a fighting chance for recovery.

Washington, June 22.—An investigation of the campaign contributions of the elections of 1904 and 1908 is proposed in a resolution today by Senator Culberson, of Texas. The proposed investigation would be made by the Committee on Privileges and Elections with instructions to report methods of curtailing subscriptions and confining them to proper and legitimate objects.

BANKERS OF STATE AT LAKE KANUGA

Second Day's Session of North Carolina Association was Very Interesting.

ADDRESS BY MR. VREELAND

Member of National Monetary Commission Heard With Interest—Report From National Association—Social Feature

(Special Star Telegram)

Kanuga Lake, N. C., June 22.—The second day's session of the North Carolina Bankers' Convention was marked by a very happy combination of important addresses delivered by men of world-wide note and entertainment tendered the delegates by the Hendersonville bankers and Mr. George Stevens, owner of Kanuga Lake.

The most important address of the day was that of Hon. Edward D. Vreeland, vice chairman of the National Monetary Commission, who delivered a clear logical expression of proposed banking and currency legislation. Mr. Vreeland was introduced to an audience which filled the big assembly hall of Kanuga Lake Club house, at 9 o'clock by Jos. G. Brown, of Raleigh. Mr. Brown said that the distinguished speaker of the evening had brought a trained mind to the solution of the country's banking and currency systems.

Mr. Vreeland's address, which commanded the absolute attention of his audience, bore out Mr. Brown's statement. During the address he made the statements that no State was more richly blessed with natural resources than was North Carolina where the marvelous advances in real estate, upon which all other values are based, indicated a solid prosperity.

This morning's session was called to order at 9:30. Mr. H. C. McQueen, president of the Murchison National Bank, of Wilmington, made his report as a delegate to the American Bankers' Association. The hall was well filled by an attentive audience who listened appreciatively to the report.

Reports of standing committees were read and addresses made by Caldwell Hardy, of Norfolk, Va.; L. W. Parker, of Greenville, S. C, and J. K. Doughton, State Bank Examiner.

After the appointment of committees on resolutions, nominations and auditing the session adjourned.

During the afternoon a complimentary drive through Hendersonville and Flat Rock were given the members of the association and their friends by the bankers of Hendersonville.

Immediately following adjournment tonight a dance was given the bankers and their guests by the Lake Kanuga Club.

The delegates, some 300 of whom were registered at 3 o clock this afternoon, are having a most delightful time at the Lake. Scores are accompanied by their wives and daughters and the social features of the convention are proving exceptionally enjoyable.

Seeing in the reform of the National currency the practical remedy for National unrest and voicing his advocacy of needed banking legislation, Mr. Vreeland, in his address tonight struck a responsive chord with the bankers.

Congressman Vreeland urged co-operation among the banks rather than the centralization of power in any organization.

"We want control decentralized," he said, "and made as broad as the country. The management of the reserve association was in the hands of representative men selected from every part of the United States and representing not only the banking interests of the country, but the business interests as well."

The speaker declared that money panics are due entirely to our defective banking and currency system.

Significant action was taken by the bankers when it was unanimously resolved that hereafter all officers of the association be nominated on the floor of the convention and not by the nominating committee as heretofore.

In offering the resolution C. N. Evans, of Wilmington, N. C., said that there had been much dissatisfaction and criticism in connection with the old method of electing officers.

COLLAPSE OF STOCKADE.

Capt. T. W. Fenner Reports to Prison Authorities at Raleigh.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 22.—Capt. T. W. Fenner, chief clerk in the State's prison here, writing from Waterville, where he went to investigate the collapse of the convict bull pen of The Trans-Continental Railroad Company, in which four State convicts were killed and others seriously injured, Sunday, writes Superintendent J. J. Laughinghouse that he finds no criticism for anyone regarding the accident, which he attributes to the severe rains, that caused the ground to give way in a slide down the gorge. He says a new stockade, framed, is being prepared. The other was of logs. He writes that there is every indication of a determination to press forward the railroad work and that he never saw such marvelously beautiful mountain scenery.

MORMON CHURCH AND SUGAR TRUST

Inquiry Into Relationship Between the Two was Begun Yesterday.

BEFORE CONGRESS COMMITTEE

Former Bishop and General Manager of the Companies on the Stand—Told the History of the Industry.

Washington, June 22.—Inquiry into the relationship between the Mormon church and the American Sugar Refining Company, begun today before the House Committee of Inquiry into the sugar trust, disclosed that Henry O. Havemeyer's first dealings in the beet sugar business were with the Utah Sugar Company, in which the Church of Jesus Christ and the Latter Day Saints was interested.

Thomas R. Cutler, of Salt Lake vice president and general manager of the Utah-Idaho Sugar Refining Co., and former bishop of the Mormon church, appeared before the committee as a witness. He disclosed that, of the approximately $9,500,000 paid-up stock of the Utah Idaho Company, the American Sugar Refining Company controls $4,650,050, or 465,050 shares; Joseph F. Smith, president of the Mormon church, as trustee for the church, 49,815 shares; the estate of Henry O. Havemeyer, 23,174 shares, and the balance is owned by 1,493 individual stockholders. Mr. Smith, who has been summoned before the committee as a witness, sent word today that he was on his way to Washington and would arrive here Monday to supplement testimony given by Mr. Cutler, who will continue before the committee tomorrow.

Mr. Cutler related to the committee the early history of the beet sugar industry in Utah, dating back many years up to the time of the organization of the Utah Sugar Company in 1889 and the Idaho Company in 1903. The Mormon Bishop became interested first by endorsing notes of the original company and purchasing bonds and later was induced to buy stock, he said. Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, who conducted the examination of Mr. Cutler, asked about the first entrance of Mr. Havemeyer into the affairs of the company.

"In 1902," said the witness, "I first met Mr. Henry O. Havemeyer."

"Did you approach him or did he approach you?" asked Mr. Garrett.

"Mr. Havemeyer approached me," was the reply, "and it was for a different purpose than generally supposed. I had been hunting capital for years for the sugar interests in which we were interested and had been in the East many times. Mr. Havemeyer had heard of me and he sent William P. Willetts to Utah to see me. I was just going to California and Mr. Willetts accompanied me there and arranged for me to go to New York to see Mr. Havemeyer.

"I went to New York and though Mr. Havemeyer was the only man I met at that time I judged that he was negotiating for the American Sugar Refining Company, because he used the word 'we' in all his conversation.

"Mr. Havemeyer said to me: 'We have decided to go into the beet sugar business. We think it is bound to become one of the great industries of this country and we have heard of your success in the West. We sent for you to see if you couldn't help us in establishing beet sugar plants in any good locations in the United States.'

"I told Mr. Havemeyer that I was not in a position to accept such a proposition, and I said that what I wanted was financial help in our own enterprises. Then he made a proposition to me to supply one-half of all the capital we would need in extending our business in good locations if we would agree to furnish the other half and he proposed to start the deal, that our stockholders sell the American Company one-half of our company."

Mr. Cutler explained that this was taken up with the stockholders and that it was after he had made six trips between New York and Utah that the deal was closed with Mr. Havemeyer. The committee had just begun its examination of the witness when adjournment was taken for the day.

The committee concluded the examination of Charles B. Warren, president of the Michigan Sugar Refining Company.

CLEMENT EVANS' CONDITION.

Physicians Won't Discuss Outcome of the General's Illness.

Atlanta, Ga., June 22.—Reports this morning from the bedside of General Clement A. Evans, former commander of the United Confederate Veterans, were that he was holding his own, no pronounced change for the better or worse having developed during the night.

The age of the general—seventy-eight—makes his present attack of muscular rheumatism all the more difficult to combat, and physicians will not make any prophecies of the outcome of his illness.

LORIMER FRIENDS GIVE TESTIMONY

Former Illinois Governor Upholds Senator at the Senate Inquiry.

YATES AND HINMAN APPEAR

Never Heard of Money Used in Election Until Year Afterwards—New Features Brought Out —Jack Pot Mentioned.

Washington, June 22.—Former Governor Yates, of Illinois, who once accused Governor Deneen of playing him falsely in politics and sent word to him through Senator Lorimer that he was a "liar still" denied today on the witness stand in the Senate committee to investigate the Lorimer election that he had ever heard of the use of money in that election until more than a year afterward. Both he and George W. Hinman, editor and publisher of the Chicago Inter-Ocean, the only other witness, professed the greatest friendship for Mr. Lorimer.

Mr. Hinman expressed the belief that there had been a "jack pot" or general corruption fund in the Springfield Legislature for many years, but he pointed to Mr. Lorimer's enemies as the probable contributors.

Mr. Yates emphatically denied that he ever had any conversation with Edward Hines, of Chicago, over the long distance telephone on the day Senator Lorimer was elected in regard to a corruption fund for Mr. Lorimer's election or any other subject.

Mr. Yates declared that the will of the majority was not thwarted by the defeat of Senator Hopkins, because he had only triumphed by a plurality vote over men who had not made a long, vigorous fight against him.

"Did weariness of the deadlock enter into the election of Senator Lorimer?" asked Senator Fletcher.

"Yes, I think it did."

"The Democrats had no chance of electing their candidate, did they?"

"None whatever. They felt very enthusiastic about voting for Lorimer," said Mr. Yates. "I heard one man say as he cast his ballot, 'thank God, the time has come when I can vote for Lorimer.' They shouted it out."

In reply to Senator Kern, the witness said he was not sure these shouters were Democrats.

Senator Kenyon said the first step in the election of Lorimer was the election of Edward G. Shurtleff, as speaker of the Illinois Legislature. He asked the witness if he himself had not said on the night of Shurtleff's election "this means the election of Lorimer as Senator."

Mr. Yates denied he had made such a statement, but demanded who claimed he said so.

Senator Kenyon asked if he had not made such a statement to Phillips, a Record-Herald reporter.

"I know Phillips," said Mr. Yates. "If he says I said it—I would say I said it."

The witness added that he had long hoped Lorimer would be elected senator and might have expressed himself along that line, but there was no general discussion to the effect that Lorimer would be a candidate.

"What Democrat of respectability, or of prominence or member of the Legislature expressed a desire to you to have Lorimer elected?" inquired Senator Kern.

"I do not know. I cannot give you any names."

"Not one?"

"No."

Senator Kenyon asked Mr. Yates if at the convention when he was defeated for re-nomination for governor, he did not discharge Joseph Bidwell, grain inspector, because he was Lorimer's friend, and Lorimer was opposed to him.

"After Bidwell had voted against me 79 times, he came to me and said I had his sympathy," Mr. Yates told the committee. "I told him I would rather have his resignation. Joe thought I meant it, and so resigned. I accepted it."

Mr. Hanecy, attorney for Mr. Lorimer, delved into Illinois political history.

"Do you know of any alliance between Roger Sullivan, Democratic leader, and Governor Deneen?" he asked.

"If there is," responded the witness, Roger will get what I got."

Mr. Hanecy brought out that Senator Hopkins often had manifested opposition to Yates' political fortunes. Mr. Yates protested against this line of examination, but Mr. Hanecy persisted. The committee will meet again tomorrow.

CANADIAN CLUB BANQUET.

Held in New York to Mark Coronation. Taft Present.

New York, June 22.—Senator Raoul Dandurand, of Montreal, Canada, in an address at the banquet of the Canadian Club of tonight declared that many well informed people in the Dominian were of the opinion that the reciprocity arrangement with the United States would be favored by 90 per cent. of the Canadian electorate if it were not made a party question. Senator Dandurand was the principal speaker before the club, which entertained President Taft.

"It is hazardous to prophecy, nevertheless, I will venture to predict that this reciprocity agreement will be endorsed by the Parliament and the people of Canada and that under it both countries will find profit and contentment," said the speaker.

"Canada aspires to become the link which will bind more and more the two great English speaking nations in an intimate union for the maintenance of peace throughout the world."

Senator Dandurand first spoke of President Taft's arbitration proposals and said that in no country had the suggestion met greater favor than in Canada. He continued:

"If the offer for arbitrament of all disagreements between nations which recently went forth from the White House results eventually in the creation of the League of Peace, the name of Taft will be entitled to the first place in the temple of fame."

After addressing the bankers, President Taft went to the banquet of the Canadian Club.

Shortly before his arrival Sharon Graham, president of the Club, and toastmaster, announced that those at the speakers' table had united in expressing their felicitations to King George V. in the following cablegram:

"The Canadian Club of New York at its coronation banquet, honored by the President of the United States and many distinguished guests, tenders as expression of its profound loyalty to his majesty upon his coronation and the heartiest wishes for his prosperity and that of the Empire."

The Canadians greeted him with a roar of applause as he entered and when the cheering died away the President said:

"People talk about annexing Canada to the United States, or the United States to Canada. It is entirely unnecessary; all that we ought to do is to cultivate as fully and completely as possible good neighborly relations. The closer we come together, commercially and socially, the better it is for both of us."

The President put in a good word for the Canadian reciprocity measure. After the dinner President Taft was whisked away in his automobile to Seagate, where the Presidential yacht Mayflower was awaiting him, and sailed for Fall River, Mass., where the President is to attend the Cotton Centennial Carnival tomorrow afternoon.

He has a wife and two children and they will make their home in Raleigh later in the Fall.

RECORD RUN UNDER WATER.

Submarines Went From Newport to Provincetown Without Detection.

Washington, June 22.—The recent run of the little submarine fleet from Newport to Gloucester, Mass., broke all records of length of submersion and distance traveled beneath the surface. All the way from Newport to Provincetown their voyage was made without detection by passing vessels, although the submarines must have passed a large number of craft navigating the crowded channels. The commanding officer reported with pride that even the newspaper reporters did not discover the fleet.

One boat made a considerable run at the great depth of 60 feet and altogether the voyage was a satisfying demonstration of the probable value of the submarine in actual warfare.

TRI-STATE EAGLES.

Sessions in Charleston Just Concluded — In Augusta Next.

Charleston, June 22.—The Tri-State Eagles today are giving themselves up to unalloyed pleasure, after disposing of considerable business at their meeting late yesterday afternoon and having a splendid degree team contest last night, at which ten or so candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the order. His imagination had been fired by detective stories. He has been paying he says, $4 a week board of V. H. Kendall. Except for a brother, aged thirteen, he has no relatives. His father was a machinist, P. H. Thompson. He says he came here to get a better job.

Every railroad and steamboat line in the city has been notified of the robbery and a close watch is being kept. The local police and detective forces are aiding the Federal authorities in locating the hold-up men.

AFFAIRS AT STATE CAPITAL

Violation of the Cattle Quarantine Law—Bank of Tarboro's Troubles—Gypsy Fortune Teller's Case—At Library.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 22.—The State Department of Agriculture and the United States Department, co-operating, have procured the fining of W. A. Connell, in the Superior Court at Warrenton for presistent violations of the cattle quarantine regulations in connection with the campaign for the eradication of the cattle tick in this State. He persisted in getting in cattle and shipping out other cattle from his place which is within quarantine territory. He paid $201 fine and costs. The authorities say they find a very general desire to co-operate on the part of the farmers and cattlemen.

Ed. Pennington, cashier of the Farmers' Banking and Trust Co., Tarboro, took charge of The Bank of Tarboro today as receiver, his appointment being procured by the Corporation Commission to wind up the affairs of the bank which has been practically wrecked through the shortages of Cashier Luther Hart, who suicided, and Assistant Cashier Hussey, who is being held under $15,000 bond for his part in the defalcations which State Bank Examiner Doughton finds extended through seven years with much the more frequent and largest operations within the past few months.

Governor Kitchin has ruled that he has no authority to employ counsel on the part of the State to go to Baltimore to make the legal fight for the extradition of Madam Hunter, the Gypsy fortune teller who fleeced Mrs. Annie O. Eatman and others out of large sums of money by playing on their credulity as to the Madam's power of working "spells" as well as forecasting the future. Col. J. C. L. Harris, as special counsel for Mrs. Eatman, will go to Baltimore Monday to make the fight before the Governor of Maryland for the return of the woman to Raleigh, she having employed counsel to resist extradition.

In connection with the effort to get into the State library copies of all North Carolina books and pamphlets either by North Carolinians or concerning North Carolina, there has just been added to the library a copy of "The Historic Sketch of the Reformed Church of North Carolina," gotten out by a board of editors under the auspices of the church.

The Corporation Commission made an order today for the Seaboard Air Line and the Southern Railway Company to erect a union passenger station at Rutherfordton. This is in compliance with a petition on the part of citizens of Rutherfordton. Chairman McNeill and Commissioner Lee were at Rutherfordton a week ago for a hearing on the petition.

ROBERTS IN ASHEVILLE.

Secretary of "Back Home" Movement Touring the State.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., June 22.—W. D. Roberts, of Johnson City, Tenn., secretary of the "Back Home" Movement is in Asheville today on a trip through this section for the purpose of addressing boards of trade of towns in North Carolina and some of the towns in South Carolina. After speaking to the directors of the board of trade here tonight, Mr. Roberts will go to Marion and from there to Spartanburg, after which he will speak at Rock Hill, S. C., Hickory and Lenoir. Mr. Roberts is now the industrial agent of the C. & O. railroad but it is his intention to devote all his time to the "Back Home" Movement at an early date. The railroads which are now interested in the movement are the C. C. & O., the N. & W., C. & N. W., C. & O., and the A. & W. P., which has headquarters in Atlanta.

Mr. Roberts stated that the following boards of trade are now co-operating with him: In Virginia, Lynchburk, Suffolk, Norton; in North Carolina, Winston-Salem, Raleigh, Greensboro, Hickory, Lenoir; in South Carolina, Spartanburg, Rock Hill, Camden, Charleston, Greenville; in Alabama, Montgomery, Anniston; in Tennessee, Nashville, Johnson City, Memphis; in Mississippi, Columbus, Natchez.

Mr. Roberts stated that these boards of trade were sending in the names of people who have gone from the South to the West and that he is now receiving about 150 names daily of people chiefly in the far West; that the Greensboro board of trade has recently sent over 350 names of people west of the Ohio river; the Winston-Salem board has sent over 1,000 in the past three months.

He further stated, "we have records of over 50 people who have come back here in the past six months, and there are several thousand more who are preparing to come as soon as they can dispose of their property. We have private advices that there are more than 50,000 idle men in Washington, Oregon and California drawn there by low rates.

"It has been the experience of the railroads mentioned that out of every 100 inquiries received 95 have been for farm lands and a good proportion of this for fruit lands. This movement is interesting people from all parts of the world. Letters have been received from northwest Canada, from Massachusetts, some of people who have never been in the South. This movement has brought more inquiries than the paid advertising of these railroads.

"We are striving to reach every person in the West who has gone from the South and it is estimated that there are about 2,500,000."

Mr. Roberts is preparing to issue a magazine, "Back Home," as the organ of this movement. The first edition of 50,000 copies will be issued about July 15th. It will contain addresses of the governors of the following States to former Southerners: North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Alabama, Florida and Mississippi.

COLUMBUS LAND VALUES.

Whiteville's Paved Streets—Building & Loan.—Fishing Party.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., June 22.—Hon. R. H. Powell, chairman of the Board of Assessors, says he thinks, on an average, there will be an increase of perhaps 20 per cent. in property values in Columbus county. In some townships there will be but little advance, but in others a considerable increase will be made.

Mayor Davis is having the finishing touches now put on our streets, and Whiteville will soon have the best paved streets of any town in the State to its population.

A movement is started in Whiteville to organize a building and loan association. A number of working men in our town want to take stock in such an association so that they can build homes. Mr. J. R. Williamson has been requested to take the necessary steps toward its organization and it will probably be run in connection with the Bank of Columbus.

A severe hail and wind storm around Old Dock, a few days ago, blew down much timber and did serious hurt to cotton, but fortunately it covered a small area.

A party of gentlemen, consisting of Messrs. L. V. Grady, W. E. McDaniel, Sheriff Richardson and Col. J. B. Schulken have just returned from a fishing expedition to Col. Schulken's private club house, fish and game preserves, near Old Dock. Col. Schulken has built a modern club house on his large farm, and has connected therewith a pond covering 700 acres, stocked with fish, besides all manner of game on his property. It is one of the most delightful retreats in this section.

FAYETTEVILLE AND FAIRMONT.

Split Even in Double-Header Played at Fairmont Wednesday.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fairmont, N. C., June 22.—The concluding games of the series to be played between the Fairmont and Fayetteville second nines were pulled off on the home grounds here yesterday afternoon. Although the scores in these last games were not as close as the previous one they were interesting nevertheless.

The first game was called at 2 o'clock with Grantham in the box for the locals. Eight scores were tallied for the visiting team in the first inning, and Elwanger, who replaced Grantham in the box in the third inning held them to three scores for the remainder of the sessions. Fairmont batted steady, occasionally slipping a man across and a heal healthy batting rally in the ninth, but not quite enough to tie up the game, being retired with the corners crowded. The score:

Fayetteville .....802 010 000—11
Fairmont .....201 021 003— 9

Batteries: Cooper and Fry; McDaniel, Grantham and Elwanger.

Of the second game only five innings were played. This was an easy walkover for the locals, as they piled up six scores in the second and kept on scoring until the last man was down in the fifth. The score:

Fayetteville .....022 20—4
Fairmont .....060 2x—8

Batteries: Cooper, Nolly, Pitman and Smith; McDaniel and Thompson.

SHIPPING ROASTING EARS.

Three Car Loads Shipped North From Clinton, N. C., Section.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 23.—Railroad folks hereabouts saw something yesterday afternoon that, while in no sense remarkable, denoted a new epoch in Atlantic Coast Line shipments, when three express cars loaded with Spring corn for the Northern market were handled north from Clinton. The corn is for table use and while there has in the past been seen many dozen crates that have been routed north, yesterday's three-car shipment was the largest that has been handled by the Atlantic Coast Line. The North Carolina "roasting ear" has long been a favorite dish in these parts, but from yesterday's shipment it appears that folks in Yankee Land have gotten on to the fact as well and that while there are many corn raising States in a closer radius of the Northern markets than is North Carolina, still the folks up that way want the best and North Carolina has been called upon to supply it.

A member of the crew of the express train in which was included the three cars named, stated that while this was the largest shipment yet, of corn, that this was in no wise an experiment and that this was going direct to a demand for it and not into the Northern markets to see if it might be sold. Since these are the facts in the case, it would appear that truckers in the neighborhood of Clinton have established a trade on this vegetable as well as cucumbers, lettuce, etc., and that in the future large shipments of North Carolina "rosters" may be expected.

REQUISITION NOT HONORED.

Atlanta Attorney Will Not be Carried to South Carolina.

Atlanta, Ga., June 22.—Governor Brown, of Georgia, today refused to honor requisition papers issued by Governor Blease, of South Carolina, for Thomas B. Felder, an Atlanta attorney, for whom a warrant has been sworn out in Newberry, S. C., charging him with attempted bribery of H. H. Evans, a former member of the dispensary board.

The contention of Mr. Felder's attorneys that the requisition papers were inadequate because they lacked affidavits to indicate that any person had specific knowledge of the alleged offense, was sustained by Governor Brown.

When Governor Brown told Mr. Felder that he had denied extradition the latter declared his innocence of any attempt to bribe and asserted that the warrant was merely a subterfuge on the part of his enemies to get him into the State.

STATE RETAIL MERCHANTS

Raleigh Wins Over Newbern and Wilmington for Next Meeting—Address by Commissioner Young —Other Proceedings

(Special Star Telegram.)

Hendersonville, N. C., June 22. — With the election of officers, the selection of Raleigh as the next meeting place and the delivery of a fine address by J. R. Young, State Insurance Commissioner, the ninth convention of the North Carolina Retail Merchants' Association adjourned at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

There was a warm fight between Raleigh, Wilmington and Newbern for the next convention. the capitol city winning only by a few votes. President Broughton and Treasurer Harriss of Raleigh, were re-elected after some opposition from themselves. M. F. Sanford, of Fayetteville, was elected treasurer, and E. E. G. Barrett, of Kinston, vice president. The question of salary allowance and for a stenographer for the State officials brought on a lively discussion, a minority report being presented. The majority report was finally adopted. An allowance og $500 annually was made for a stenographer. There will be no attorney for the State organization this year.

No endorsement was given the proposition asking the General Assembly to establish a State Board of Trade. Several interesting papers were read and discussed. Mr. Young pointed out the importance to merchants of preventing the enormous fire waste in the State and asked their earnest co-operation in the department's efforts to prevent that economic loss. The closing session of the convention was not well attended. Many of the delegates were at Kanuga Lake, and some went to Lake Toxaway.

It is admitted that the convention just closed has been the most important in the association's history and their deliberations will have a far-reaching result.

There are now 101 branches of the association in the State with 2,026 members. The reports of local associations showed all in fine working condition and the outlook for the new year exceedingly bright.

The committee on resolutions recommended as follows: That name of organization be changed to the Merchants' Association; to continue the fight against discriminatory freight rates; to request the Corporation Commission to employ an expert freight clerk; to ask the next General Assembly to permit the waiving of homestead exemption; to amend the present lien law; to express disapproval of the tendency of manufacturers and jobbers to open retail stores; to endorse the Merchants' Journal as the official organ; to secure penny postage for first-class mail matter; to have the Interstate Commerce Commission change the present law so as to permit reweighing of coal at its destination; referring to extortionate freight and express rates; favoring good roads.

All the recommendations were adopted by a rising vote.

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh.

It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs.

Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe. Easy to take as candy.

Friday, June 23, 1911.

Speaking about optimists that are the genuine article, now there is our Champ Clark predicting that in the next election the Democrats will sweep rock-ribbed Republican Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania and protection almost rhyme.

The South Carolina dentists are holding their State convention in Columbia this week. If those meddlesome South Carolina editors crack any jokes at the expense of dental surgery, the dentists should not hesitate to cast them back in the teeth of the editors.

Peter C. Sharp, of Pittsburg, has found himself with two wives in the same town, and although it is a pretty big town it is not big enough for the three to live in. Wife number one came on from San Francisco and she and wife number two are making Sharp realize that life is not worth living with two wives.

A Democratic House has persistently and pertinaciously put it up to a perverse, reactionary, sand-pat Senate. The House has gleefully handed over to the Senate a great deal of medicine, including reciprocity with Canada, direct election of Senators, a clipped tariff on wool, and other things which look like handing all sorts of lemons to the grave and reverend Senators.

The fact that traveling salesmen are now using the swift going automobile to take in country stores is a good sign for the county which has roads suitable for this kind of traffic. Good roads will make automobiles useful in the remotest sections of the country, and rural telephones and speedy and economical transportation will enlarge every opportunity in the most out-of-the-way places. Watch a county with good roads get astonished at its growth.

A couple of months ago, some Oklahoma boosters meandered through eastern North Carolina painting glowing pictures of rich lands and farming in that country. When they found out that an eastern North Carolina farmer could clear enough money in one season on one acre of land to buy an acre in Oklahoma, the strangers bought tickets straight through to West Virginia. Why should man imagine a vain thing and stroll unwittingly into the very midst of the Nation's Garden spot!

Senator Heyburn is the roaring lion of the Senate, swishing its tail and fairly itching for a skinning. Some of these days he will swish in the direction of some wild and wooly Senator with withers unwrung and a tongue like some furious old fishwoman. We regret to see Heyburn throwing himself away, for he should have a care lest some fateful day he should tickle the throat of some unsuspected volcano. At present, however, the Senators, except Heyburn, are safe and sane.

The redistribution of coin begins in eastern North Carolina just as soon as early truck and fruits begin to move, and then the life of an eastern North Carolina farmer is one thing right after another while reaching after all sorts of money for his strawberries, early potatoes, tobacco, cotton, peanuts, and prosperity Fall crops. About ten months in the year a farmer in the Nation's Garden Spot is harvesting products that bring ready cash, while the other two months are spent in rejoicing that he lives in a land upon which the earth's richest blessings have been poured.

WHERE TAXES PINCH.

Says the Wilmington (Del.) News: "Now, honestly, how many ultimate consumers are suffering because of the price of steel rails?"

As to that, how many ultimate consumers ever saw a pound of tea up to the time such a great disturbance was kicked up over the tax on tea represented in the revenue stamps which the British government required to be placed upon tea sold in America? It wasn't so much whether that tax was burdensome as it was "the principle of the thing" to a fellow who really drank the tea made of sassafras and yopon gathered by the "old 'oman."

Taxation without representation was what made a free-born American mad as a wet hornet. They had very little use for tea itself, for they neglected to confiscate the cargoes of the merchant ships but threw the whole mess overboard. The Bostonians who did that were disguised as Mohawk Indians, but at Wilmington the men of the Cape Fear acted openly and above board. They came armed and put a quietus on the stamp officer by compelling him to take an oath not to enforce the stamp act.

Those Carolinians didn't believe in any Indian methods, but were defiant and ready to do business with the lawful representatives of King George, whose authority was not then so well recognized as that of Sheriff Cowan who can now sell out the Cape Fear men, lock, stock and barrel, if they do not pay their taxes. However, there is this difference: It is the people's own representatives who now levy and collect the taxes, acting in accordance with the will of the sovereign people. The people, if they know themselves, constitute the authority in free America, and they are it except at times when the politicians pull the wool over their eyes. When, however, they find it out, the people throw the politicians overboard instead of the tea. When the sovereigns begin to see the thimble trick worked on them, it is the thimble-rigger who has to go on to the next town.

Speaking seriously, the steel rail tax—the high protective tariff which enables the steel manufacturers to sell rails for $28 a ton in the United States while selling them in Canada for $17.50, or any other price they can get—indeed is felt by the ultimate consumer, the people who pay the freight and pay the railroad fares. Every patron of the railroads knows who pays all the expenses of the railroads and enough more to provide dividends for the stockholders. It is the ultimate consumer who foots the bill.

It is not alone the steel rail tax, but the wool tax, the sugar tax, the tobacco tax, and all unreasonable and excessive taxes in the aggregate that constitute the burden. It isn't any one tax especially, but piled up taxes for private beneficiaries that represent the bad principle of the thing, at the same time levying too great a tribute upon the individual man's labor and earnings. It was not the one straw laid on the camel's back but one straw after another that finally broke its back, so the steel rail tax, with all the rest of the taxes is where the ultimate consumer feels the burden.

No ultimate consumer should be beguiled into the belief that he doesn't pay his part of every tax levied either for the government or for the privileged interests.

WILMINGTON OWNED SHIPS.

There were "Wilmington packets" in those days, which is to say in 1804, according to an original copy of the Wilmington Gazette, a weekly paper under date of May 15, 1804. Yesterday the Star referred to some things from that old paper, which we stated was discovered by Mr. J. H. Mallard's family a few days ago in the midst of some musty old family records.

In that old paper is this item: "The Wilmington packet, Schr. Venus, arrived at this port last evening from New York." Several vessels were reported with cargoes from the West Indies, with which Wilmington seems to have had a large trade at that time. Rum seems to have been a common, every day thing in the grocery stores of those days, for all the merchants advertised something to drink as well as to eat. The house of Giles & Burgwin ran this advertisement: "Just received, by the brig Eliza Giles, Avery Bill, master, from Anato Bay, 34 puncheons of well flavoured 4th proof rum." That was another vessel which evidently was owned in Wilmington, and as a matter of fact, it is said that in the early days of Wilmington most all the merchants did a maritime business, owning their own vessels and trading wherever there was business to be done.

We are not so sure that it wouldn't pay Wilmington now to own her own ships for trading with the West Indies, Cuba, and Central America. The importation of tropical fruits, it strikes us, could be made a big business at this port. When the Panama Canal is in operation, we are prepared to believe there would be a big opportunity for Wilmington owned vessels. Wilmington's fertilizer interests are already doing a large import business with the west coast of Chile, and if one will take a map he will see that the west coast of Chile is almost due south of the port of Wilmington, making almost a bee line through the Isthmian Canal to the region whence we import many cargoes of nitrate of soda during a season. Every steamer which brings us a cargo from the South American countries should carry a return cargo.

We are satisfied a large trade would be the result of some effort to get a portion of the trade which the Panama Canal will open to every enterprising American port. It has been only this season that a steamer brought from Chile a cargo of fertilizer material and carried back a cargo of pig iron shipped to this port for export from Birmingham, Ala., so the ship would not have to return empty. That one incident ought have opened our eyes to the possibilities of increasing the volume and variety of our exports. It should be remembered that a port can reach into many States for export business—to the West for wheat, flour, corn, and packing house products, and to the South and Southwest for cotton goods, iron and other products. There is no telling what we can do if we try.

THE TOWN THAT REALLY GROWS

If everybody sent away from Wilmington for what they buy there wouldn't be a store in town. Take away the mercantile establishments of a town and the hoot-owls will make its streets their habitat and over it would brood the ominent silence of Sleepy Hollow. If all people were like the man or woman who patronizes the stores of far-away cities, everybody would have to shut up shop and join in the homeseekers' movement.

Everybody can help to build Wilmington by spending their money at home where it goes to help the prosperous merchants construct handsome buildings and do business in well stocked stores that would be a credit to any city. The little cramped-up store with window-light show cases and dingy shelves is the logical product of the buyers who think they can save 30 cents in a year's time by patronizing mail order houses, paying express charges and spending money for stamps, checks and postoffice orders under the impression that they are saving money.

The merchant who sends away a dollar for supplies which can be bought in his own town, who doesn't throw something in the way of home industries, and who doesn't patronize the home architects, the home contractors, the home plumbers, the home dealers in building supplies, the home printers, etc., is contributing a large share toward having a hoot-owl town. They ought to be doing business in Dead Man's Gulch for what there's in it.

If you've got a dollar to spend for anything, put it in the palm of a home man. Plank down your dollar where it will come back to you through the channels of business, and quit playing "heads and tails" with yourself. Blow in your money on Winsome, Worthwhile Wilmington, and it will be blown in on you in return when the high tide of prosperity begins to roll.

Every man and woman can do something for Wilmington and themselves by spending their money at home where it will circulate within their reach and be sure to "come back" like "bread cast upon the waters." Don't be a friend of the hoot-owl. Money spent in the home town will add sparkle to the glow of the white-light district of Wilmington, the best lighted city within the roar zone of the Atlantic ocean.

Cheer up, spend your money at home and invest your capital in Wilmington where foreign commerce within 365 days has increased about $10,000,000 over the volume of last year.

Wilmington is the town that really grows.

The New York Tribune announces that "a prominent cotton manufacturer of New England, asserting that American money is building up Canada at the expense of American labor, will explain how reciprocity would remedy the economic wrong." His article will appear in next Sunday's Tribune and since it will be something like a free trade view from New England, it doubtless will be interesting. Who said New England would some day exchange economic places with the South?

Collier's, under date of June 24th, contains a magnificent colorwork cartoon of the United States dreadnaught Delaware, which is America's representative at the coronation naval review in English waters. "The First Lord of the British Admiralty," says Collier's, "declared before Parliament that the American ship is the most powerful fighting machine in the international armada now assembled in honor of the Coronation." Ah! ha! The Delaware was built in the South by the Newport News Shipbuilding Company. We can make everything in the South. If not, why not?

CURRENT COMMENT.

"The 'cob-web skirt' has made its appearance in New York. Fly young men had better look out."—Memphis News-Scimitar. Conjecture in order on the proposition: What if Nat Goodwin spied her?—Jacksonville Times-Union.

The Chronicle goes Dr. Morris Caldwell's race track on the Wrightsville road confused with a neighboring truck farm. It was from this farm that the 300 barrels of potatoes were dug and sold at $4 a barrel. The trucker would have had a twelve hundred-barrel crop, had it been a good one. Dr. Caldwell's race track is one of the sights seen from the beach cars. He has leased it to the Wilmington Driving Association for a term of five years.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Judge Eure is acting like the old man who found the boy up his fruit tree. Having tried mild measures of punishment on blind tigers, retailers, etc., he is now awarding road sentences. If the boy don't come down out of the tree Judge Eure is going to knock him down. And he is right.—Greensboro Record.

With Senator John Sharp Williams, Democrat, of Mississippi, defending the Republican administration from an inferred attack by members on the opposite side of the chamber, and Senator Bailey addressing himself to his Democratic colleague, of whom he would be a leader, and receiving most of his support from the standpat Republicans, Monday's debate on the reciprocity bill strikingly illustrates the diversified political alignment over the measure in the Senate.—Salisbury Post.

The Chronicle has not been asleep on the building of the short-cut to tap the Southbound at Norwood. We are going to have some developments of interest in a few days. This short cut is Charlotte's best railroad possibility and we are now feeling pretty confident that it is going to be built. We might even say that by the time the interurban gets to Gastonia, the short-cut to Norwood will be under way. Capital from more than one scurce is investigating the lay of the land.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Preparations are being made to hold good roads meetings on July 4th at Havelock Riverdale, Jasper and Fort Barnwell. Prominent men of this county will make speeches, and the automobile owners of this city are asked to attend these meetings. Part of the crowd leaving Newbern will attend the Havelock and Riverdale meetings, while the others will attend the Jasper and Fort Barnwell meetings. It is hoped that a large crowd from this city will attend. The parties will leave from the Elks Building at 10 o'clock.—Newbern Sun.

"The Charlotte (N. C.) Observer" expresses the opinion that the popular election of Senators amendment, as passed by the Senate, ought not to "inspire alarmed antagonism in the South," and adds: "Certainly it should not be "one-tenth so objectionable to "any Democratic mind as the Aldrich "income tax resolution, a wholesale "subtraction from State sovereignty, "which is pending now." Possibly our North Carolina contemporary is overconfident in expecting the Democratic mind to square its attitude toward the one amendment with its attitude toward the other.—New York Tribune.

"OLD SOLDIER" MISUNDERSTOOD.

Adjutant Leon's Letter As to Reunion Was All Right.

Point Caswell, N. C., June 22, 1911.

Editor Star:—I think "Old Soldier," in your issue of the 20th, misunderstands Adjutant Leon's letter. As an old soldier and one who gave five years of his best manhood to the cause we all loved, I want to say that Wilmington will do what Norfolk and all our State cities have done at the Reunions. Wherever an old comrad don't feel able to pay his expenses, the committee will be glad to provide for him, and no city in the union will do so with as much pleasure and genuine hospitality as Wilmington. None of us want to see an old veteran plead the pauper act. There is no necessity for it. If he comes to the reunion and don't fell able to pay, all he has to do is to go to the committee and he will be treated as royally as if he was worth a million. At the same time I don't think a veteran who is well to do and amply able to pay his way should tarow himself on the hospitality of the city and thereby take from those that the hospitable city is providing for. The hospitality of the Wilmington people is too well known to be questioned. I have attended every reunion given in the State as well as Norfolk and I assure 'Old Soldier" and any other veterans that come to Wilmington that they will have no cause to complain of Wilmington's hospitality. R. P. PADDISON.

LONG FILIBUSTER BROKEN.

Tennessee Solons Who Left State Will Return Today.

Louisville, Ky., June 22.—Following a conference here today of the fight between the regular Democrats of the Tennessee Legislature on one side and Independent Democrats and Republicans on the other, it was formally announced that the filibuster, which started 70 days ago would be broken and that those fusion members who went to Alabama in order to hold up all legislation would be back in their seats tomorrow. Concessions are said to have been made by both sides.

New York, June 22.—Supported by his counsel and leaning heavily on a cane, W. E. D. Stokes, who, a fortnight ago, was shot by Lillian Graham and Ethel Conrad, appeared in court today against them. Following a brief examination the two girls were held in $5,000 bail on the charge of attempted murder. There will be a further examination into the case on July 6th.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.

Atlantic Coast Line train No. 48 will leave Wilmington, on and after Monday, June 26th, at 8:00 A. M. instead of 8:40 A. M., as now. 5t.

NOTICE.

I have this day sold my interest and good will in the produce and commission business to J. E. Winstead and B. D. Penton, heretofore conducted by he as A. S. Winstead & Son and bespeak for them the same liberal patronage as has been bestowed on me. Respectfully,

A. S. WINSTEAD.

We have this day bought the interest of A. S. Winstead, Produce and Commission business, and henceforth the business will be known as The Winstead Produce Co. We solicit the patronage of the old company's customers as well as new. Come and see us.

Respectfully,
J. E. WINSTEAD,

AMERICAN SHIPS AT KIEL.

No Special Programme for Eentertaining the Visitors.

Kiel, June 22.—There was no special programme prepared for the entertainment of the visiting officers and crews of the second division of the United States Atlantic fleet today. Three hundred members of the Woman's Navy League paid a visit to the flagship Louisiana during the afternoon. The captains of the Louisiana, Kansas, New Hampshire and South Carolina and the owners of the American Sonder class boats Beaver, Cima and Bibelot, competing in the International Yacht races here, dined with Emperor William on board the Imperial Yacht Hohenzollern tonight.

HEALTHY MOTHERS

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

EXCURSIONISTS COME TODAY

Large Party from Georgia Metropolis to Visit Wrightsville Beach—Concert at Seashore—At Gay Lumina.

According to information received by the hotels at Wrightsville Beach between 500 and 600 prominent Atlanta people are now speeding their way from the Georgia metropolis to Wrightsville Beach over the Seaboard Air Line and will arrive in Wilmington this morning about 10 o'clock and go straight through to the popular resort, where they will spend six days or longer.

This is the first excursion of the season from Atlanta and is operated in two sections, the first consisting of Pullmans and the second of day coaches, and are due to arrive within a half hour of each other. The Seashore and Oceanic hotels and boarding houses have made preparations to take care of the crowd. Most of the number are expected to stop on the beach. There are already a large number of people at the beach and with the arrival of the excursion today the resort should have that animated appearance it is wont to take on about this time in the season. The visitors will be given a rousing welcome at the Seashore Hotel, Capt. Edgar L. Hinton, the manager, having arranged for a special concert in the lobby of the hostelry from 11:30 A. M. to 1 P. M. The concert will be given by the Seashore and Lumina orchestras, consisting of 17 pieces. In addition to the selections by the combined orchestra, Miss Agnes Tully, a member of the Seashore Orchestra, will please and charm the assemblage with a vocal solo. It is likely that several hundred people will attend the concert as the public generally is invited.

At Gay Lumina.

The visitors as well as hundreds of others on the beach and the townspeople will have the privilege and pleasure tonight of attending a decidedly attractive affair at Lumina, known far and wide as North Carolina's pleasure palace, in the nature of a "23 dance". A dance of this kind was given at Lumina two or three years ago and proved most successful in every respect. The selection of tonight for the dance is very appropriate, as this is the 23rd of the month. The plan is to give a favor of some kind during the march. The special "23" favors this year are said to be far ahead of any souvenirs ever presented at Lumina.

Arrangements have been made for a dance Monday night, which will no doubt be one of the largest attended and most enjoyable of the season. It will be known as the "Watch Dance," given this name for the reason that a lady's gold filled watch will be given away as one of the souvenirs. While it will not be what the jewelers call a guaranteed watch, it will be a good one and will keep time. There will be other pretty souvenirs for distribution on this occasion. In fact, it is said that souvenirs which will be given out then are among the most attractive in the history of special dances at the resort.

Every lady in the grand march will have a chance at the watch. The souvenirs for the night will be placed into boxes, all of which are the same size and shape, and in one of these boxes will be placed the watch. Not even those who have charge of handing out the souvenirs to the marchers will know which box contains the capital prize. Each lady will be given one of the boxes and one of the number will receive the watch. The event will very probably be attended by one of the largest crowds of the season and is being looked forward to with a great deal of interest by the young people.

TWO NEW CONCERNS.

Articles of Incorporation Received by Clerk of Superior Court.

Articles of incorporation of two new local concerns, the Post Dater-Stamp Company, and the City Grocery Company, Incorporated, have been received at the office of the Clerk of Superior Court from the Secretary of State, who recently granted charters to the concerns. The Post Dater-Stamp Co., is chartered to manufacture and sell dates, stamps, dies and autographs of every character (metal, wood, rubber, etc.) to be operated by hand, electricity or other power and to manufacture other articles, etc. The total authorized capital stock is $500,000, but may begin business when $50,200 has been subscribed. The incorporators and the amount of stock held by each is as follows: Thos. R. Post, 10,000 shares; James F. Post, 20 shares, and D. C. Love, 20 shares.

The City Grocery Co., Inc., is chartered to do a general grocery business at corner of Fourth and Red Cross streets. The authorized capital stock is $5,000, of which amount $2,000 has been subscribed by the following incorporators: I. W. Cooper, 10 shares; J. N. Valentine, 10 shares; W. T. King, 10 shares, and Lewis Williams, 10 shares.

Will Sail on Steamer Olympic.

Mr. John F. Powell, traveling salesman for the Corbett Co., of this city, will sail from New York for Southampton June 28th, on the new White Star Liner, "Olympic," to spend a couple of months in Europe, returning to Wilmington about September 1st. The Olympic has just completed her maiden voyage and is the largest vessel afloat. A fair idea of her size is given when it is considered that if she were placed on Market street, she would reach from Solomon's corner to the eastern end of St. James' church, and in width would just barely fit between the stores on either side of the street. It took 12 tugs to pull her to her dock in New York. Mr. R. N. Sweet is the agent here for the White Star Line.

FIFTY-TWO MEMBERS SIGNED.

Trade Extension Association About Ready to Begin Business.

Fifty-two of the leading business houses of Wilmington had signed the membership agreement by which the new Trade Extension Association is to be organized up to last night. The list will be practically finished by the end of this week. Several details of the work have already been completed, but all advertising and other features dependent upon the personnel of the membership cannot be begun until the list is completed.

It was stated at the Chamber of Commerce last evening that there was no doubt the entire responsible mercantile community would be in line pulling for Wilmington at the wind-up. It was said that two or three merchants might hesitate about joining, or kick about some special features of the organization agreement, but that in the end a merchant who is in business to sell goods cannot get away from the proposition. When free transportation becomes the established policy of the city, the merchant must either pay fares over his counter or through the association. Even where he decides to buck the association all he can accomplish is a little harm to the city's interests, but even that is done at a cost to himself that soon becomes a burden and, it is said, he voluntarily comes into the association sooner or later. However, it is not believed by the gentlemen active in the preliminary work that any local merchant will be found who will take the unusual position of favoring the catalogue houses and foreign markets as against the interests of Wilmington.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Negro Found Guilty of Abandonment —Other Cases Heard.

Charged with abandonment of his wife, George Nixon, colored, was before the Recorder yesterday morning and found guilty, but judgment was reserved until this morning. R. M. Capps, a young white man, was found guilty of a charge of assault with deadly weapon in that he cut Cato Costen with a pocket knife early yesterday morning, but judgment was suspended on account of the condition of the defendant, who is a cripple, being paralyzed in the left arm. J. M. Bell, a white man from Florence, S. C., was arrested by an officer on the charge of drunkenness and when he was searched at police headquarters a pistol was found on his person. So he was called in court to answer two charges, drunkenness and carrying a concealed weapon. He is crippled in one leg and is minus his left arm. Owing to this handicap the Recorder made the fine only $10 for carrying concealed weapon and in the other case judgment was suspended. He had not raised the amount of the fine and costs yesterday afternoon, but it was thought that he would be able to get together the money required to keep him from the county farm. There were four defendants bfore the Recorder for violating the city tax ordinance by failure to pay the license or privilege tax to conduct cool drink stands. It appeared that the tax had already been paid and the cases were dismissed.

WILL BE CONCLUDED TODAY.

Hearing in Supplementary Proceedings Nearing an End.

With two sessions again yesterday such progress was made that it is believed that the hearing before John D. Bellamy, Jr., Esq., referee, in the supplementary proceedings against Mr. W. E. Worth, will be concluded today. The action is brought by the Knickerbocker Trust Co., to ascertain the exact financial standing of Mr. Worth, against whom the company has obtained a judgment in United States Court for about $30,000 alleged to be due on subscription to stock in the Rockingham Power Co. At the morning session Mr. W. H. Chadbourn, trustee for the Worth Company, and Mr. George R. French, one of the executors of the estate of the late B. G. Worth, were introduced in the effort to ascertain what interest, if any, Mr. W. E. Worth may yet have in the Worth Company and the estate of his father. Mr. W. E. Worth was then recalled to the stand and he was under examination throughout the afternoon session. The hearing will be resumed at 10 o'clock this morning.

Boys Arrested for Trespass.

Mack Applebury, Lester Gottenburg and Fred Gallett, all young boys, were arrested yesterday on a charge of trespassing on the Front street piazza of the Orton Hotel. Mr. J. H. Hinton had previously warned the youngsters to stay off the piazza, complaining that they were a decided nuisance. They disregarded his warning, and he decided to have them arrested in order to end the trouble once for all. Chief Fowler recognized the lads to appear before the Recorder this morning, when their case will be disposed of.

Their Infant Dead.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Flynn will sympathize with them in the death of their infant daughter, Margaret, aged 16 months, which occurred yesterday at the family home in this city. The funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon by Rev. J. C. Wooten, pastor of Grace M. E. Church, and the interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

Married Yesterday Afternoon.

Mr. William L. Howell and Miss Maie U. Smith, daughter of ex-Patrolman W. R. Smith, both of this city, were happily united in marriage early yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed by Magistrate J. W. Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Howell will reside in this city. They have many friends who will be interested in the announcement of their marriage.

FOURTH DAY OF THE RETREAT

Gathering Comes to a Close Today—Special Sunday School Meeting at 4:15 in Beach Chapel at Wrightsville.

The fourth day's session—in many ways the most interesting and most profitable practically—of the Bishop's Retreat, being conducted by Rt. Rev. Robt. Strange, Bishop of the Diocese of East Carolina, was held yesterday, the programme following closely the lines mapped out in the sessions of the previous three days.

Always the happiest feature of the day, the early morning service at 7:45 yesterday was conducted by Rev. John R. Matthews, for the past six months missionary for the Diocese of East Carolina, and known in Wilminton, having been temporarily in charge of St. John's church for a year. Rev. Matthews took for the subject of his meditations, as such ihformal addresses are often called, the power that maintains the Christian Church and makes it go forward. He touched on every age and every land, from the small beginning in the days of the Apostles down to the present day when the Church is a dominant factor in the life of almost every nation.

The main session began at 10 o'clock and the first period, devoted to the study of the Sermon on the Mount, drifted into a vitally interesting discussion of the boy problem at that comical age between boyhood and manhood.

The reading and discussion of two papers occupied the next period of an hour and a half. One paper was by Rev. Dr. George Milton on the "Sunday School Teacher," and the other was by Rev. J. M. Treeford on "The Child." A vigorous discussion followed these readings.

A recess was then taken, after which the last period of the day was devoted to the consideration of the minister as a student and a teacher. Rev. Dr. Milton, the appointed leader, entertained the clergymen with his remarks. After his lead of about twenty minutes many questions were asked and suggestions made as to valuable books to read and the method of study to pursue, also on the use and abuse of commentaries.

With the end of the day's work, the members of the Retreat devoted the remainedr of afternoon to the pursuit of some form of recreation.

Today will be the last day of the Retreat and in addition to the regular order of the day, there will be a special meeting at 4:15 in the beach chapel in the interest of the Sunday School movement, to which all of the teachers of the Episcopal churches of the city are invited.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Fast Game of Indoor Baseball—Young Men's Meeting Postponed.

In a fast game of indoor baseball last night at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, the Tigers defeated the Giants 7 to 1. The result of the contest lowers the standing o the Giants another notch. The batteries were Morrison, Davis and Jones for the Giants and Cleaper and Hall for the Tigers. Tonight the Junior department plays the boys' department. The young men's meeting, a new religious feature of the association work, which was to be held last night, was postponed until next Monday night.

Stolen Goods Recovered.

Officers W. A. Applebury and A. D. Smith, of the police department, made a discovery Wednesday morning of what is supposed to have been goods stolen from an Atlantic Coast Line freight car. The goods were concealed near the North Carolina Cotton Oil mills, north of the city, and the lot consisted of two cases of syrup, one 200-pound sack of meat, one sack of salt, one can of lard, one box of medicines and a box of grated cocoanut. Report of the find was made to Chief of Police J. J. Fowler and to Mr. Edmonson of the Coast Line. The property was turned over to Mr. Edmonson, as all indications pointed to the fact that it was stolen from the railroad.

"The Hall of Fame."

Under the head, "The Hall of Fame," the Saturday Evening Post of this week contains the following items of interest in this State: "Representative Charles M. Stedman, of North Carolina, is one of the twelve soldiers who were engaged in the first battle of Bethel in 1861, and who surrendered with General Lee at Appomattox. Representative William Kent, of California, is the richest Insurgent. He owns much property in Chicago and California, deals in cattle and real estate, and has large chunks of land in Nebraska, Nevada, Michigan, Kansas and North Carolina. He smokes a pipe."

Road Nears Completion.

Yesterday's Southport News: "Things are mighty lively at the Wilmington, Brunswick & Southport R. R. camp these days. The force of men has been more than doubled, and they are working a day and night shift, that the whistle of the first engine to arrive at Southport may blow June 30th. It should echo from end to end of the county."

A Charming Woman

is one who is lovely in face, form, mind and temper. But its hard for a woman to be charming without health. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and kidney poisons show in pimples blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion and perfect health. Try them. 50c. at R. R. MUST PAY WHEN DUE.

City Makes Special Effort to Collect License or Privilege Tax.

It is the policy of the present administration to put forth every effort to collect when due every cent the city is entitled to receive as license or privilege tax. There are now a large number of dealers and others liable for the tax who have ignored the notice given them through Special Officer N. J. Williams that they have overlooked the matter of paying the tax and yesterday Mayor Smith was given a revised list of those who have not called at the office of the Tax Collector and secured their license. Mayor Smith stated that all persons, firms and corporations liable must pay the tax and that beginning now delinquents might take notice that action will be brought unless payment is made promptly at the proper time each quarter. He can see no reason why the tax should not be paid when due. It is the sense of the Council that the necessary steps to collect all due the city from this source be taken, even to bringing action against the delinquents who neglect the notice given them. Yesterday morning there were four soft drink dealers before the Recorder for failure to pay the tax. This is only a starter, it is said.

The tax on soft drinks is $5 a year, payable $1.25 a quarter in advance, instead of $3 a year as erroneously printed at the time the ordinance was being considered. This tax is to be paid by all dealers in or dispensers of saft drinks, regardless of whether conducting any other business or not. License to be issued only upon approval of the Police Department as to location and character of applicant, and any license liable to be revoked upon evidence satisfactory to the Council of any violation of State law or city ordinances.

THE DOG CART BUSY.

Officer Frank George Gathering in the Canines—Penalty.

Policeman Frank George, in charge of the dog cart, began his war upon the tagless canines of the city Wednesday. He corralled 19 dogs, a horse and a goat the first day, and yesterday he was even more successful. Chief Fowler expects that as a result of the campaign the city will sell from 1,800 to 2,000 tags.

In this connection it might be stated that the Council is considering the matter of adopting an ordinance providing a penalty of 50 cents for every dog captured by the dog cart man. Action may be taken at the next meeting. It has been the custom to return to the owners the dogs where the tax is paid without the collection of any extra amount to cover the additional cost to which the city is put by reason of the failure of the owners to pay the tax at the proper time. In other words, the cost to the owner is the same after the canine is captured by the dog cart man as before, which plan is rather an encouragement to a great many to take long chances of evading the cart. By requiring a penalty in addition to the tax before the dog is returned, it is believed that there will be less work for the cart and the officers. There is already a city ordinance which provides a fine of $20 for failure to comply with the law by paying the tax by a certain time, but this has never been rigidly enforced. The 50-cent penalty proposed is in addition to the ordinance. This matter was considered by the Council at a recent meeting and some action may be taken at the regular meeting next week. In the meantime, the dog cart man will continue his work.

Special Meeting of Council.

There will be a special meeting of the City Council at 10 o'clock this morning at the request of Mr. J. N. Hazelhurst, of the firm of Hazelhurst & Anderson, consulting engineers for the city. Mr. Hazelhurst desires a conference with the Councilmen with reference to the proposed municipal sewerage system, plans for which have just been approved by the State Board of Health. The plans were drawn by Hazelhurst & Anderson. It is thought that no other matters will engage the attention of the Council.

Meeting of Veterans.

Adjutant L. Leon yesterday issued a call for a meeting of Cape Fear Camp, No. 254, United Confederate Veterans, to be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the W. L. I. armory. All veterans interested in the success of the annual State reunion to be held in this city August 2nd and 3rd are urged to attend the meeting this evening.

DIAMONDS GALORE.

New Fad Adopted in Wilmington—Everybody Wearing Diamonds.

More people are wearing diamonds in Wilmington just now than every before and people who never were able before to own a diamond. The introduction of the new stone, the Radium Diamond, has created a fad in the city which is having a run.

The attractive window display of these sparkling gems at Gaylord's Big Department store is very beautiful. It is a fad, but a fad that has taken among all classes. During the first two business days a number of party favors have been supplied from the display of Radium diamonds and the hit among the social set has been a decided one. A Radium diamond has not been secured, according to the best obtainable information, but it has given surprising satisfaction.

An incident during the first two business days of the introduction of the Radium Diamond in the city, was a challenge passed between two popular young men of the city yesterday, when one of the two offered the other a scarf pin from the selection if he could distinguish the true stone from the Radium. To prove the challenge the challenger took a diamond pin from his scarf in the absence of his companion, put it in a tray with several similar Radium pins and then the companion was asked to select the real diamond on the proposition that if he did so he could keep the pin. The companion is wearing a Radium now, and the real stone is in the scarf of its original possessor. The display spoken of is to be seen in the window at Geo. O. Gaylord's big Department store on Front street, where they are holding a special demonstration sale of these beautiful Radium Diamonds set in rings, pins, brooches, lockets, earrings, etc., which regularly sell from $3.00 to $8.00. Your choice for one dollar. This includes every piece in the display. Today and tomorrow are positively the last two days of this sale. **

NEWS OF THE SHIPPING.

Steamer and Schooner Cleared From Port—Cargo From Rocky Point.

With cargo of lumber received from the Perry, Houston Lumber Co., at Rocky Point, 30 miles up Northeast river, the schooner William Linthicum, Capt. Flowers, was towed down the river yesterday and cleared for Seaford, Del. This is the second trip the Linthicum has made to Rocky Point and this time carries 150,000 feet of lumber, being the second cargo shipped by this company.

The Norwegian steamer Bergenhus, Capt. Kahrs, which discharged cargo of fertilizer material to the Wilmington Compress & Warehouse Co., cleared yesterday for Bathurst, Nova Scotia, where she will receive cargo.

The British schooner A. B. Barteaux, Capt. Barteaux, has completed discharging molasses from the West Indies to the C. C. Covington Co., and will clear within the next few days.

Woman Declared Sane.

Fannie Carroll, colored sentenced a few days ago by the Recorder to 12 months at the county farm provided she was not declared insane by the Clerk of Superior Court to whom she was turned over, was yesterday morning adjudged sane. She was taken back to jail from the Court House and will go to the county farm for a year. She was arrested at Carolina Beach Monday by Deputy Sheriff Brown on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. She was in the custody of the officer for six hours pending the departure of the night boat for the city and she certainly made it lively for him. Three charges were entered against her and at the hearing Tuesday she was given a sentence of 12 months with the condition as stated.

Mr. Robbins Injured.

The many friends in Wilmington of Mr. W. L. Robbins, representing the Peters Cartridge Co., will regret to know that he is laid up in Asheville, N. C., as the result of injuries received at Marion, N. C., Saturday night. He called in a drug store there to have a bone felon examined. Dr. Justice suggested lancing it, which he did. Mr. Robbins became very sick and walking to the back door of the drug store, he fainted and fell to the ground, a distance of 10 feet, receiving severe injuries in his right foot, as a result of which he is on crutches. He was confined at Marion until Tuesday when he went over to Asheville and will remain there until Sunday when he expects to reach his home at Phoenix for a few days.

EPWORTH LEAGUE MEETING AT FIFTH STREET CHURCH.

Members of the Epworth League of Fifth Street Methodist church are looking forward with much pleasure to the meeting to be held in the church tonight under the auspices of the religious department. Various topics have been selected for discussion and five-minute talks will be made by Misses Hazel Fleet, Louise Sholar, Edelweiss King and Messrs. Chas. G. Hall, E. A. Palmgren, Leon Jewell and Hiram King. The talks will be interspersed with musical numbers, quite an attractive programme having been arranged by Miss Hattie Gardner, who is in charge of the social feature of the League work. The Epworth Leagues of North Carolina have just the past week held their annual meeting at Dunn. Mrs. H. W. Keen and Miss Hattie Gardner represented Fifth Street church at the conference. The delegates are very enthusiastic about the plans outlined at Dunn and will submit their reports to the league tonight. No department at Fifth Street church has made greater strides under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. G. T. Adams, than has the Epworth League. The meeting tonight — at which about a hundred members are expected in attendance—is an indication of its present strength.

DR. ERNEST S. BULLUCK.

Will Practice Profession With His Father, Dr. D. W. Bulluck.

Wilmington people are always pleased to learn of the achievements and success of young Wilmingtonians who have so invariably and creditably represented their city at the noted educational, technical and professional institutions of the country.

One of these returning honor men is Dr. Ernest S. Bulluck, son of Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Bulluck, of this city. After long and thorough educational preparation at various collegiate institutions and from years of close and studious professional training, young Dr. Bulluck has returned home and will practice with his father.

The young doctor's numerous friends in Wilmington and elsewhere in the State will be gratified to learn of the splendid achievements and honors he attained both in his educational, technical and professional courses. He received his academic education at the Danville Military Institute, afterwards taking a course at Guilford College, and later attending the University of Virginia. At all these institutions he took high stands, and was well fitted for the final four years of arduous professional course, surgical work and hospital training in the medical department of the University of Maryland, at Baltimore. There he distinguished himself, having won a heretofore unknown honor in the 110 years career of the institution, that honor having been a special diploma in recognition of his systematic and unyielding application in the pursuit of his course. His work so signally recognized was that during his four years course he daily devoted three extra hours a day to vivisection and operative work on the cadaver. Thus he won the highest honors in surgery, and the faculty decided that his work was so extraordinary that it called for a special diploma.

For eight months, young Dr. Bulluck also did the laboratory work of the university, and such was the student body's confidence in him that he organized and was chairman of the honor system of the university. He was also elected and served with marked ability as editor of the university magazine—Terra Mariae.

Having won all the honors the university and his class could bestow upon him, his firends will be pleased that he will add his training, skill and ability to the already distinguished medical and surgical fraternity in Wilmington. In becoming associated with his father, he becomes the partner in a large practice built up during many years' success on the part of the elder Dr. Bulluck, who is known far and roar as one of North Carolina's most eminent physicians and surgeons.

PROBABLY DROWNED.

P. A. Kelly, Deck Hand, Missing from Pipe Line of Dredge All Day.

P. A. Kelly, 40 or 50 years of age, a deckhand on Dredge No. 9, of the Bowers Southern Dredging Co., at work 20 miles down the Cape Fear river, just below the plant of the Ocean Fisheries Co., has been missing from the pontoon line of the works since 9 o'clock yesterday morning, and his employers fear that he has fallen overboard and been drowned in the river. The pontoon leads about 1,500 feet from the dredge to the shore or marshes, and Kelly was engaged last about 9 o'clock yesterday morning in pumping out the pontoon. When he did not report to the dredge for dinner about noon yesterday, his shipmates became apprehensive and a search was made for him, but without leading to any information as to his whereabouts. The fact of the man's disappearance was reported to the Wilmington office of the company, but no trace of the man had been found up to 11 o'clock last night. With unusual consideration for its employees by a large corporation, Mr. Clarke, of the Bowers Company, has given orders that several charges of dynamite be put in the river this morning with the hope that if the man has been drowned his body may be brought to the surface before it floats in the ordinary process and is swept out to sea. Kelly signed as a member of the crew of the dredge at Wilmington, but all effort to locate any of his connections in the city has been without avail.

First From Brunswick.

The Star received yesterday through Messrs. Stone & Co., the first cotton bloom from the "State of Brunswick." It came from the farm of Dr. J. A. Stone and Mr. L. F. Bryan, on the estate of Dr. Stone's father and was plucked on the morning of the 19th from a field of very fine staple on the plantation.

Three new and up-to-now pictures at the Grand today. **

Grand Theatre.

Yesterday was no doubt the hottest day this Summer, even with that the Grand did a rushing business. People go there knowing that with such a system of ventilation they cannot help being cool and comfortable. The songs that have been sung by Mr. and Mrs. Tally each day have never been sung here before. Mr. Tally will sing today a brand new, cute, comic song, entitled "Hands Up." The Grand will show three newly released pictures today, including a very interesting picture. "The Indian's Sacrifice," which relates a pretty story of a "Medicine Man" and his love affair on a great Western ranch. It is without a doubt a pleasure to any one to visit the Grand and listen to its classic orchestra, that puts life into each and every picture. The doors open at 2 P. M. and show continues until 11 P. M.

At the Bijou.

What is said to be the most thrilling moving picture thought out and then created in years will be presented at the popular Bijou, the place of high-class shows, delightful comfort and tiny price, as the star of today's big bill. There have been many thrilling incidents depicted in most realistic manner by the art of the moving picture camera, but nothing like what has been shown in today's expensive film, "His Leap to Liberty," has never been approached. The hero of the story is a convict and he leaps from a fast moving train as he is being carried to prison. It is a novel incident, as well as a thrilling one. The story itself is stirring and pretty. "The Cat Came Back," which must carry with its very name the suggestion of plenty of laughs, is one of the big fun features for today. "Jiggers Buys a Watch Dog" tells a most humorous story, while "She Got the Money," is one of the most unique comedy creations ever presented. The musical part of today's bill is going to be big and merry. Mr. Frank Banks has a brag illustrated song, and Mr. Banks is Wilmington's favorite singer.

APPLICATIONS RECEIVED.

Persons Desiring Positions in Police and Fire Departments.

The City Civil Service Commission held a meeting at the City Hall last night for the purpose of receiving applications for positions in the police and fire departments. Chairman C. F. W. Rehder presided and the other members, Messrs. Martin Willard and S. J. Ellis, and Capt. Thos. D. Meares, the clerk, were in attendance. There were ten applications for positions on the police force, and six for places in the fire department. A committee was named to prepare examination papers and submit same at a meeting to be held tonight. If there are any others who desire positions in either department they should file their applications today with the clerk of the commission. It was decided to meet Monday night for the purpose of examining the applicants. The commission will pass upon the qualifications of the applicants and certify to the Council double the number of persons necessary to fill vacancies.

Sunday School Outing.

Fifth Street Methodist Sunday School enjoyed its annual outing at Carolina Beach yesterday, and with an unusually good attendance, an ideal day, ample refreshments for the picnicers and the many forms of amusement the popular resort offers, the day was exceptionally enjoyable. The steamer Wilmington made two trips, carrying splendid crowds on each. Nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of the excursionists and the outing was one of the most successful the Sunday School has ever conducted.

Good Catch at Wrightsville.

Messrs. F. E. Evans and D. A. Bresett, of Chicago, who have been spending several days at the Seashore Hotel, made an exceptionally good catch of Spanish mackerel and blue fish yesterday morning, which is probably the record for the season at the resort. These gentlemen and the boatman, caught 276 fish by actual count, and had them on exhibit at the hotel during the day. They used the yacht Bridgeport, owned by Dolph Styron and fished off Wrightsville.

TEXACO ROOFING

is made of solid, extra heavy, first quality, wool felt, thoroughly saturated with Texaco Bitumen, over 99 per cent pure, and afterward finished with an extra heavy coating of the same material.

TEXACO BITUMEN—over 99 per cent pure — possesses great fire-resisting properties, is not oxidized by the action of the elements, is impervious to the action of acids, fumes and gases, is not injured by the extremes of heat and cold, and remains adhesive and pliable.

The weakest point of ready roofing is at the lap, due to the disintegration and hardening of the cement used, but Texaco Roofing Cement, made of bitumen over 99 per cent pure, insures a permanent waterproof lap.

The principal merits of TEXACO ROOFING are:
ECONOMY of first cost and application.
SIMPLICITY and ease of application.
PERFECTION of weather and water-resisting qualities.
MAXIMUM of strength and durability.
FIRE-RESISTING.
PLIABILITY and immunity from injury by extremes of temperature; and, last but not least,
A PERMANENT LAP, by use of Texaco Roofing Cement, which gives security, strength and waterproofing at the weakest point of a roof.

COTTON IS GOING DOWNWARD

Closed Barely Steady at Net Loss of Three to Eleven Points Yesterday—Opening Decline Das Recovered — Features.

New York, June 22.—An opening decline in the cotton market was a little more than recovered during the middle of the day, but prices eased off again in the late trade following private reports of further showers in the Southwest, and the close was barely steady at a net loss of 3 to 11 points.

The opening was steady, at a decline of one to five points under over-night selling orders which were doubtless inspired by yesterday's late reports of showers in Texas. There were no cables to influence sentiment either way, and after an initial selling order had been expected, the market turned steadier on covering of shorts, trade buying and reports that spinners had buying orders in the market just above the 13-cent level, as a hedge against forward requirements. The Western belt forecast calling for generally fair weather in Texas, except for showers in the extreme Southeast, probably encouraged the rally from the low point, and at one time during the middle of the day old crop positions showed advances of about 6@9 points, while the new crop sold 2 or 3 points net higher.

Reports that exporters were in the market for shipments from the local stock and that very little cotton was heading in this direction for July delivery, helped the old crop positions, but there was no broadening of demand on the advance, houses with Eastern and Central belt connections were sellers of the new crop months and the general list turned easier in the afternoon, with closing prices at practically the lowest level of the day on Fall and Winter deliveries. Private wires are still coming in from the western belt, claiming that good general rains are required, but reports from the eastern belt are very favorable.

Receipts today, 469 bales, against 1,485 last week and 4,925 last year. For the week, 10,009, against 12,773 last week, and 23,304 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 151, against 2,295 last year, and at Houston, 28, against 139 last year.

Spot closed quiet, 10 points lower; middling uplands, 15.20; middling gulf, 15.45; sales, 227 bales.

Futures opened steady and closed barely steady.

GROCERS WOULD COMPROMISE.

Officials of Department of Justice Approached with Proposition.

Washington, June 22.—Attorneys for the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association, against which the government is now prosecuting an anti-trust suit, is was said today had approached officials of the Department of Justice with a proposition to compromise.

It is understood they were informed that the government would not drop its case in consideration of any concession from the defendants. The government's case is nearly finished. Attorneys for the grocers were anxious to secure what is called "an agreed decree."

Luke E. Wright, former Secretary of War, is one of the attorneys for the Grocers' Association who have been at the Department of Justice in connection with the case.

SHARP REACTION IN STOCKS

Unfavorable Influences in the Market —Heaviest Selling Movement of Several Months Undertaken —Features.

New York, June 22.—Hopes of a speedy improvement of conditions in the securities market and in the financial situation in general were retarded today by the effect of unfavorable influences which brought about a sharp reaction in stocks. The heaviest selling movement of several weeks was undertaken today and in the first hour of trading more shares were dealt in than during yesterday's entire session. Prices gave way rapidly and no recovery of consequence was effected. The movement appeared to derive its impetus from an attack by the bear party, rather than liquidation of long stock. The close of the day found many leading stocks a point or more below yesterday's final figures.

The latest phase of the Washington situation was considered as perhaps the most disturbing influence. Indications that the tariff question may be taken up by Congress in a more comprehensive way than has been expected gave rise to a revival of apprehension on that score, which were heightened by doubts as to the attitude of the Senate. It was felt that both financial and commercial enterprises would be under restraint until some more definite idea might be obtained as to the outcome. The chance that further obstructions would appear in the way of the Canadian reciprocity agreement reacted with especial severity against the stocks of railroads which were expected to benefit by the agreement and the Northwestern roads were among the heaviest losers of the day. Prospects of revision of the woolen schedule were associated with the decline of three points in American woolen preferred.

Reports of possible prosecution of the United States Steel Corporation were used in attacking the stock and it gave way more than usual. The court's ruling against the powder companies was without effect upon Dupont Powder securities.

Crop conditions were again an important factor in determining market movements. Unsatisfactory reports were received as to prospects for corn in several sections.

Bonds were heavy. Panama 3s and Chinese 5s were traded in on the Stock Exchange for the first time today. Business in the new United States issue was smaller than when it was dealt in on the "curb." Total sales, par value, $3,145,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales, 466,600 shares.

PRISIONERS ON U. S. SOIL.

One Hundred Rebels Laid Down Arms at the Border.

Tijuana, Lower Cal., June 22.—After two hours of sharp fighting against 500 Mexican troops, 100 rebels under General Jack Mosby, laid down their arms at the International boundary line today and marched across as prisoners of United States troops.

Two rebels were killed and one was wounded and fifty Federals were killed or wounded, it is reported.

The rebels retreated three miles from Tijuana to the International line and then gave up. With this engagement, it is believed the revolt in lower California is ended.

Mosby and his men, all Americans, surrendered to Captain Frank A. Wilcox, 30th Infantry, U. S. A.

The rebels were taken to the camp of the American soldiers, where they will be held pending arrangements to take them to Fort Rosecrans. All but those wanted by American officers as army deserters may be allowed their liberty.

CORONATION SCENES MARKED BY SPLENDOR

e in their own carriages. The royal carriages and dress coaches were most gorgeous affairs. They were filled with peers in their robes, some wearing their coronets and others carrying them in their hands, and peeresses with magnificent robes over marvelous dresses. The variety of color defied description. There were liveries of yellow and gold, blue, black and red, purple and green and even white trimmed with black.

The Lord Mayor, in black and gold coach drawn by six horses, was recognized and cheered. Then came Africans in native dress, Orientals in varicolored uniforms and representatives from over the seas, and dominions, wearing court costumes or uniforms with their orders.

Although hundreds of carriages dropped guests at the Abbey entrance by no means all came by the road. A large contingent of peers and peeresses came down the river by steamer. Even a large number made their way on foot, the peers with their coronets in their hands and their robes in many cases dragging in the mud. At last, the guests having arrived, the troops were drawn in closed and a final inspection made by the Duke of Norfolk, the commanding generals and the chief of police, before 9:30 o'clock. After a short wait the sound of music announced the approach of the first procession, which consisted of the royal and other representatives all in closed carriages. John Hays Hammond, the American envoy, was in the seventh carriage, with Vice Admial De Jonquieres, the French representative, the Duke Albrecht of Wurtmburg, and Prince Rupprecht, of Bavaria, drawn by bays.

Members of the British royal family came half an hour later. The Prince of Wales, in his garter robes, accompanied his sister and brothers in the last carriage, and received an enthusiastic greeting.

The Coronation Parade.

At 10:30 o'clock a royal salute announced the departure of the King and Queen from the palace, and as the most gorgeous of the processions, the one in which naturally the greatest interest lay, made its way through the troop lined streets which were backed by great crowds in the stands and afoot, a wave of cheering spread from one end of the route to the other. The sun made an attempt to break through the clouds and partly succeeded, so that the people were able to watch the progress of the King without discomfort.

A wonderful display of uniforms preceded the royal coach. After the guard of honor around the carriages of their majesties and suits the King's Indian orderlies mounted, in silken robes covered with decorations, the volunteer, regular and naval aide de camps to field marshals and generals, yeomen of the guard, equeries and honorary Indian aide de camps in a variety of uniforms, picturesque and brilliant.

Immediately behind the royal coach, Lord Kitchener, in a field marshal's uniform, rode beside the standard, and then came the Duke of Connaught, the Duke of Teck, Prince Christian and Prince Albert of Schleswig-Holstein, all on chargers.

The arrival of their majesties at the Abbey was the signal for a shout of greeting which was continued until they were lost to view, and then repeated as Kitchener or some other hero was recognized.

There seemed no end to the enthusiasm of Londoners. They had hardly time to get their supper before the conclusion of the procession and the coming of darkness when the lights were turned on for the illumination. In spite of heavy showers, the streets were crowded from curb to curb, the roadways as well as the sidewalks being given up to the merrymakers.

By common consent the people converged in front of Buckingham Palace until the throng reached such dimensions that it was impossible to move. A group of boys struck up the National anthem. Instantly the strains were taken up by thousands. As the singing ceased, cheering again broke forth, and the sound reaching the interior of the palace his majesty came out on the balcony to acknowledge the tribute. The Prince of Wales also appeared at a window and waved his hand at those assembled below. They responded by singing "Rule Brittannia," to England's sailor prince.

Official announcement was made from Buckingham Palace that their majesties stood well the physically trying ordeal and were but little fatigued. After luncheon, for which all the members of their suites remained, their majesties spent the hours quietly. In the evening they dined en famille, the only guests being the royal representatives residing in the palace.

The Queen mother, Alexandra, the Princess Victoria and the Dowager Empress of Russia, spent the day at Sandringham. They attended coronation services at the parish church.

The younger son of Prime Minister Asquith, by telephone from Downing street, gave the signal to Crystal Palace to fire the gigantic rocket at 10 o'clock tonight, whereupon the ring of bon fires around London burst into flames.

All the illuminations were extinguished by order of the police about midnight and the tired crowds retired early. Tomorrow's procession will begin to form at 9 o'clock, and the royal procession does not leave Buckingham Palace until 11. Park Camps and barracks will be early astir, and early risers will witness interesting military evolutions as the men march in review order to their quarters.

Charles P. Taft, who had a seat with his wife and daughter beside J. Pierpont Morgan over the south choir, from which he had a splendid view of the ceremony in the Abbey, was greatly impressed.

"It was one of the greatest pageants of the world," he said. "I never saw anything like it. No other country in my opinion could crown a King with such impressiveness as here in London."

President Taft's representative, Ambassador Hammond, also was impressed immeasurably by the ceremony. He said:

"I think there has been nothing like it in history so far as magnificence is concerned. I do not believe that any one can describe it. What impressed me as much as anything was the systematization. Everything seemed to go like clock-work—no delay, no discomfort, everything provided for."

One of the attractive women was Lady Newborough, formerly Miss Grace Carr, of Louisville, Ky. She wore maise chiffon over a dress of gold lace, with kirtle embroidered with the family arms wrought in gold thread. Lady Newborough's emeralds were the finest in the Abbey. An immense stone, the size of a pear, formed her pendant, and on her crown of diamonds were six high points, each topped with a flawless emerald of perfect shape and color.

This crown ranged after the Duchess of Westminster's in point of value.

Ambassador Hammond dined tonight privately at his residence where Charles P. Taft called after the ceremony. Mr. Hammond, his suite and the British attaches will view tomorrow's procession at Stratton house where the Princess Louise and the Duchess of Argyl will be his guests.

Queen Mary's Dress.

The dress worn by Queen Mary at the coronation today was indeed worthy of the occasion both for its beauty and magnificence. Made of rich white English satin, it was fashioned in princess style. A narrow border of oak leaves and acorns in dull, deep gold, ornamented the hem all round, and above this, with a small blank interval to emphasize the effect, was a deeper border of broken lines of bright gold, representing waves and intended to symbolize the imperial seas. A locus lily, the Indian symbol of long life and happiness, and its foliage was embroidered in the centre of the waves. Higher up the skirt, in the centre, the star of India was raised in gold, with the five points set in a guard of flames, representing the motto of the Indian empire—Heaven's light our guide.

A striking and handsome design typifying the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland rose at each side of the skirt, showing Tudor roses in bright gold, thistles partly in dull and partly in burnished gold, and shamrocks in rich dead gold, with the foliage of each intertwining in light gold threads. This embroidery was continued up the bodice, in the centre of which stood out a Tudor rose with two thistles head downwards below. The low neck was bordered all round with a design of shamrocks in dull gold, and there was a wide tucker of filmy gold lace over white silk tulle.

The leaves were embroidered with thistles and shamrocks in the same design as those on the skirt, and gold lace was utilized to cover the openings. The back of the bodice, which was hidden by the long train, was also richly wrought in gold. The skirt was very full and the train round. A wide box pleat opened like a fan from the waistline, later merging in the train.

The train of purple velvet, ermine and gold was perfectly regal. It was attached to the dress at the shoulders by rich gold cords with tassels. It was lined with ermine dotted with black tails. Round the outer edge was a narrow border of ermine and then a single line of burnished gold embroidery, while a second border was of acorns and oak leaves raised in dull gold, intercepted at frequent intervals by medallions bearing the rose, the thistle and the shamrock in turn. At each side of the train where it was turned at the bottom was a larger medallion and three more of the same size in the centre at the end.

Over the train at the shoulders the Queen wore an ermine cape which reached not quite to the waist.

The design of roses, shamrocks and thistles raised in dull and bright gold, was carried out all over the train, enriching the effects of the purple velvet. Near the centre were also worked in old English lettering the Queen's cypher in dead gold, and this was transfixed by a slender Latin cross with a trefoil at each end in bright gold. Above this was the crown in gold.

Altogether the robe presented an appearance of great magnificence and all present agreed that the picture of queenly dignity was complete when her majesty wore her crown after the ceremony of anointing.

The Musical Programme.

The musical programme performed during the coronation service in Westminster Abbey was for the greater part the work of representative British musicians and the performers were selected from among the most renowned English cathedral and college choirs, comprising the Abbey choir, and picked singers from St. Paul's Cathedral, the royal chapels of Windsor and St. James', as well as a number of men from provincial cathedrals. The music was for the most part that usually associated by tradition with coronations, and it was arranged by Sir Frederick Bridge with the approval of the King.

Among the music always used on such occasions, and again rendered today, was Tallis' five-part Litany, one of the most perfect pieces of harmony in existence. Merbecke's Nicene creed, sung in the Communion; the "Veni Creator", adapted to an ancient plainsong melody; and Handel's anthem, "Zadok the Priest," which was composed for the coronation of George II, were all again utilized.

The Principal novelty was Sir Frederick Bridge's "Homage" anthem, in which the old Lutheran chorale, "Ein Feste Burg," was very prominent. Sir Edward Elgar's setting of the offertorium, "O Hearken Thou," was also new.

Dr. Alcock's "Sanctus"; Sir Charles Stanford's setting of "Gloria in Excelsis"; and Sir Hubert Parry's festal "Te Deum" were performed with great success.

Some striking hymns were specially composed for the occasion, including the Bishop of Durham's "Lo! the King in State and Splendor," set to music by Sir Frederick Bridge, and Canon Ainger's "O, God, Who in the Days of Old," set to music by Sir Walter Parratt.

Another feature of the service was the saluting of the king and queen by the boys of Westminster school, who again claimed the privilege of greeting their sovereigns as they entered the Abbey with the acclamation "Vivat Rex Georgius! Vivat Regina Maria."

At the conclusion of the service the national anthem was sung with an additional verse written by Mr. Martin S. Skeffington, and the march played as their masjesties left the Abbey was specially composed by Sir Edward Elgar.

Washington, D. C., June 22.—Speaker Clark, in referring to the coalition between the Democrats and insurgent Republicans in the Senate today said the House would remain in session until the Senate votes upon the bills before it. He stated that after a rest of ten days or two weeks, the House would probably proceed with a bill for the revision of the committee on schedule of the Payne tariff law.

WARE-KRAMER HEARING.

Amer.can Snuff Company Brought Into Controversy—"White Rolls."

Raleigh, N. C., June 22.—This afternoon in the Ware-Kramer Tobacco Company damage suit against the American Tobacco Company, depositions were read concerning the connection of the American Snuff Company with the defendants, the president of that company denying it had aided at all in the cigarette business.

Defendants raised exceptions to the introduction of a deposition of Vice President W. R. Harris, of the American Company. In it he had directed his company's agents in China to watch for a shipment of "White Rolls" cigarettes of the plaintiff and give them "a warm reception." Finally the court dismissed the jury and argument was held in chambers as to certain matters of deposition, the court to rule on them tomorrow.

Secretary and Treasurer Leftwich, of The Ware-Kramer Tobacco Co., now of Baltimore, testified this morning reviewing the rise of Ware-Kramer White Rolls in Baltimore to six millions annually and the fight of A. T. Co. jobbers with free goods, special discounts and double coupons that, he insisted, cut the White Rolls down to minimum sales. He testified that Ware-Kramer Co., gave no discounts and free goods inducements in Baltimore until the A. T. Co., methods of warfare forced them to it in the hope of restoring prestige of White Rolls. On cross-examination he admitted writing numbers of letters that were read to him from the defendants' four volumes of Ware-Kramer Co., correspondence. One concerned sample cigarettes to the tune of 125,000 for "The Girl in Blue" and Baltimore baseball park. Explanation showed The Girl in Blue was a vaudeville performer who sang a song about White Rolls and threw the cigarettes into the audience. In various parts of the country where her show appeared she required about fifteen thousand cigarettes a week. Another letter involved $25,000 appropriation by the directors of Ware-Kramer Co., for Jamestown Exposition advertising and other special advertising, Mr. Leftwich testifying that the exposition was a failure and the advertising scheme abandoned before the exposition closed.

The Leftwich testimony was without special feature. He proved about the best witness the plaintiffs have yet offered insofar and holding his hand under the cross-examination of Attorney Julius Parker, for the defendant, is concerned.

THE DOCTORS ADJOURN.

Final Session of Medical Society at Charlotte Yesterday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Charlotte, N. C., June 22.—The final session of the North Carolina Medical Society today proved in many respects the best of the three days' convention, although the departure of not a few of the doctors for their homes had reduced the attendance.

The formal reading of the report of the House of Delegates was called for by the chair, and the same was adopted. This report was on nominations, all of which were presented to the society at the Wednesday session, when the convention voted on new officers.

The report of the State Examining Board, which completed its work in the early morning hours of Wednesday, was also presented to the meeting, but the names of the men who had been granted license to practice medicine, had previously been published.

That reciprocity has brought not a few doctors to this State to practice medicine was illustrated by this report. The workings of this plan generally seemed acceptable to the members of the board and to the society.

The annual report of the treasurer, Dr. H. D. Walker, of Elizabeth City, was also rendered and revealed a good financial condition.

Among the papers presented today was one entitled, "Traits and Taints," by Dr. H. D. Stewart, of Monroe, this being declared by one physician to have been the "best thing of its kind heard in 50 years." It dealt with racial traits and heredity.

Drs. C. E. Ragsdale and A. J. Crowell were appointed to escort the new president, Dr. A. A. Kent, to the presiding officer's chair shortly before the final adjournment of the society at 1:20 this afternoon. The retiring president, Dr. Van Poole, of Salisbury, offered appropriate congratulations, to which the new head of the society made timely and fitting response.

A resolution setting forth the appreciation of the members for the entertainment afforded them while in Charlotte, was unanimously adopted by the doctors just before adjournment.

STIMSON GOING TO CANAL.

New Secretary of War Looking After Its Fortifications.

Washington, June 22.—The Panama Canal, its progress towards completion and the details of its fortification will receive the close study of Secretary of War Stimson next month when he will see the great engineering work for the first time. He will sail from New York, on July 6th on a tour of inspection. Incidentally he will stop at Havana to view the ruins of the battleship Maine, whose watery shroud is now being gradually raised. The Secretary also will include Porto Rico in his itinerary to inquire into some questions of sanitation and the present method of choosing municipal judges in the island.

General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, probably will join the Secretary of War during his inspection of the canal in order to discuss the question of fortifiacation, a busject which is being given much attention by the War Department as it is desired to have the protective works completed simultaneously with the canal.

The tour of inspection may be extended to the maneuver division at San Antonio, Texas. For that purpose Secretary Stimson and General Wood probably will return by way of Galveston.

DR. McARTHUR IS CHOSEN.

Famous New York Preacher Heads Baptist World Alliance.

Philadelphia, June 22.—Rev. Dr. Robert Stuart MacArthur, of Calvary Baptist Church, New York City, was tonight elected president of the Baptist World Alliance. Dr. MacArthur's name was the only one submitted to the convention by the nomination committee, which was headed by the Rev. Dr. Stackhouse, of Toronto.

Previous to receiving the report of the nominating committee, Dr. Russell H. Conwell had moved that the report of the committee be made unanimous. This motion was carried, though many of the Southern delegates refrained from voting. The Rev. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Seminary, had been prominently mentioned for president by Southern delegates.

Other officers elected included: Secretaries, J. N. P. Prestridge, Kentucky, and J. H. Shakespeare, London; treasurer, E. M. Sipprell, St. John, N. B.; treasurer for Europe, Herbert Marnham, London.

Among American members of the executive committee are W. M. Landrum, Kentucky; E. C. Morris, Arkansas; H. H. Pitt, Virginia; E. W. Stephens, Missouri; A. P. McDiamid, Manitoba, and S. J. Moore, Toronto. Five representatives to the executive committee were chosen from England and one each from Australia, China, Germany, India, Japan, Russia and Sweden. Vice Presidents were chosen from Unions in all parts of the world.

SENDS REQUISITION FOR AVANT.

Georgetown Deputy Sheriff Goes to Texas for the Fugitive.

Columbia, June 22.—As a precautionary measure, Gov. Blease today furnished Deputy Sheriff H. H. Ward, of Georgetown county, who is on his way with a formal requisition on Governor Colquitt, of Texas, for W. B. Avant, although Avant, under arrest at Cameron, Milam county, Texas, has announced himself willing to return without a requisition. Avant and Dr. G. C. Bingham received sentence of three and a half years each, following the killing of Bingham's young wife at Murrell's Inlet in 1909 from gunshot wounds at the hands of Avant. Bingham is at large.

Governor Blease telegraphed Governor Colquitt to have the sheriff of Milam county hold Avant for a requisition. This was done following the receipt of a letter from Solicitor Wells, who said he had located Avant at Cameron, Texas. Avant's wife is with him.
